FIND PURSES IN STORAGE ROOM

Andy Brown Was Surprised at Seeing Six Pocketbooks in Elevator This Morning.

WERE TAKEN ON BRYAN DAY

Believed to be the Work of Crooks, Who Were Successful at St. Paul on Next Day.

Andy Brown thought for a few minutes this morning that he had made a valuable find, but alas, it was fated the six pocketbooks which he found in a storage room in the elevator in which he is interested, had been "touched" for the currency, the silver, and the gold, that was in them on the day that the man spoke here, who was the first advocate of free silver. The discovery brings to light the fact that six Rush county people were "touched" on Bryan day on the chautauqua grounds by pickpockets.

The six pocketbooks which were found belong to Dr. C. H. Parsons, Isaac Macey, Will Cook, Robert Cook, Frank Meredith and one whose owner is unidentified.

It was fortunate that none of the purses contained large sums of "dough." All of the losers are at a loss as to the time that they were held up, but it is the general opinion that it was on the grounds, while leaving after the Commemorative speech.

Dr. Parsons was so fortunate as not to have any money in his pocket-book and he was not a loser. The papers in the purse were not touched. The one belonging to Will Cook contained $5.35 and the one which was the property of Robert Cook held about eleven dollars. Frank Meredith of Posey township, whose pocketbook was among the empty ones found this morning, does not know how much money he carried on the day he was robbed. It contained some wheat receipts and other papers of no value which were untouched. The purse belonging to Isaac Macey contained no money. The papers in it were untouched. The owner of the other purse has not been found.

The police believe that the work is that of the same "slick of hand men" who worked at the St. Paul homecoming, for the work at St. Paul occurred on the following day. The authorities in Decatur county believed that they had a "hot tip" as to whom the men were who did the thieving at the home coming, but undoubtedly the men were foreign to this locality, in the fact that pick-pocketing is an art, one that is hard to make perfect and one that takes time and practice to perfect. The guilty parties are probably crooks, who are working in this part of the State at home comings, chautauques, and county fairs. The work in this city can serve as a moral to those who are contemplating attending the approaching county fair.

IS ROUNDING INTO FORM

Jerome, Local Trotting Horse, Goes Fast Mile at Greensburg.

Jerome, the fast trotting horse, which is owned by John K. Gowdy and Bruce Graham, has been out of form for the past two weeks on account of a bad cold, but is now at himself again. He worked a good mile at Greensburg today, going the last half in 1:08. Graham thinks that he is now ready to finish his stake engagements. He will be raced at Greensburg Friday.

CHARLES STIERS INJURED

Ball Player, Who Once Lived Here, Hurt in Sunday Game.

Charley Stiers, third baseman of the Krell-French club, was seriously injured in the game at Cambridge City Sunday, says the New Castle Courier. In the eighth inning of the game Stiers ran nearly to the stand to catch a foul tip by Clark, the Cambridge City catcher. The ball hit the wire in front of the screen and bounded back, striking Stiers in the eye. The upper lid was badly cut and several stitches were required to close the wound.

MAIN STREET LOOKS LIKE PLOWED FIELD

Has Been Torn up, Preparatory to Laying Brick, From Fourteenth to Eighth Street.

PREPARE TO BUILD GUTTERS

The work on the tearing up of Main street, preparatory to laying brick, is progressing fast. The north part of the street has been plowed up from Fourteenth street, where the brick street will begin, to Eighth street. There is almost a continual stream of big dump wagons passing through the down town district. The dirt from the street is being used to fill in across the race in South Main street. The moulds, preparatory to building the cement gutters were laid today and that part of the work will be started soon. The contractors are not prepared to state when the first brick will be laid.

HE BELIEVES IN WANT ADS. NOW

George Gray Advertised For His Valuable Scotch Collie Dog Only Yesterday.

AND HE NOW HAS HIM BACK

George Gray of Union township once had a valuable Scotch Collie dog which he prized highly. For the past few days he did not have him. This morning he had him again, all because he put a want ad in the Daily Republican yesterday. Hardly before he had taken his paper out of the mail box this morning, he received word that his dog had been found. The canine had wandered away and as soon as it was found to whom it belonged the dog was returned. Mr. Gray is now an enthusiastic believer in want ads, and says that he will henceforth advertise his his wants broadcast, for he believes that they will be best satisfied in that manner. Mr. Gray is more than delighted to have his dog back again as it was of much value around the farm.

SMALLEST BABY.

The smallest baby in the United States is said to be the week-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burpee of East Templeton, Mass. The diminutive bit of humanity weighs one pound, fifteen and one quarter ounces, is perfectly formed and seemingly in good health. Baby Burpee wears doll's clothes, the garments prepared in advance for her being many sizes too large.

Why Not Accomplish Greater Things?

Rushville has accomplished something. After seven years of hard labor, too. It has succeeded in establishing a chautauqua that is sure to be permanent, even though cities all around us with a large population and with much greater resources have failed in the same enterprise. Rushville has an institution that will be lasting and more than that, it is an institution that will serve to raise the community to a higher plane in life where greater things can be done and greater things can be had.

This year is an epoch maker in the life of the metropolis of Rush county. Heretofore, it was never certain that the chautauqua assembly would exist from one season to the next. The institution has always been in the balance until this year. The promoters have never been really assured that the life of the assembly, which will sooner or later make Rushville and Rush county famous, was not about to have an ending. They have never been able to go ahead and contract for a good array of talent while the season was young, so that they could get the choice of the lot.

But this year it is different. Everyone who is acquainted with the condition of affairs knows that there is a chance for the chautauqua running on as the county fair and other annual events in the life of Rushville. And why should it not? The chautauqua is more worthy of patronage than any other similar institution in the city or county and now the people who have come in touch with it are beginning to realize that. They are just beginning to see that there they receive an impetus for a better life, there get a vision of higher ideals, there they see a higher standard of morality and there they find a common fellowship. The chautauqua as a permanent institution in any community stands unchallenged and unexcelled. There are a few who can give any reason for it not existing.

The chautauqua has so many reasons for living that there is an overabundance of them. It serves as a place for recreation from the daily grind of life, especially for the man in moderate circumstances who can not afford to spend a few weeks during the summer at a watering place. It affords rare opportunities to men, women and children who would not otherwise come in touch with that part of life which is uplifting and which helps to bring about a higher standard of morality, a better condition of things that will make this a better world. Many men who never enter a church are reached by the chautauqua. Many men who are never brought in touch with the better side of life, are influenced by the chautauqua. Men who walk through life with no thoughts of a tomorrow are brought in contact with another world all because such an institution has existed.

The chautauqua is a blessing to the business men. Few business men there are who can afford to lose the time or money to spend ten days at a summer resort in recreation. They must work and look after their business. Few business men there are, who have time to read to keep in touch with things that are really worth while. An ordinary business man goes home at night and he is worn out by the day's care and worry. He may have some time in the evening for reading, but what does he do? We possibly glance over the evening paper or possibly a short story that serves the purpose of entertaining only. How many business men feel like reading something where they must exercise their brain power, something from which they may glean some bits of knowledge? Few of them. Not that they do not have the taste for good literature, not that. They have the taste and the craving, many of them, but they do not have the mental and bodily ability to work both night and day.

Does not the chautauqua fill up that lack to a great degree? There the business man may go for a few hours recreation and be benefited by coming in contact with better things, something away from the race for the sordid dollar. He may learn something worth while and he may learn something that will make him a better man, morally and which may help him to take on an optimistic view of life which will make him a better business man. The same thing applies to the laboring man and the farmer. He too, in most cases is never in the right mood to read and learn something with which he never comes in contact.

But the chautauqua has become a permanent fixture in the life of Rushville, and why? Because business and professional men have combined their efforts without any thought of remuneration for the benefit of Rushville to make it a success. They have worked untiringly, those various committees, to see the chautauqua come out of the rut and make a name for Rushville and Rush county. They have done all within their power to make the institution a permanent one and their efforts have been crowned with success. They have had only that one end in view to make the chautauqua something of which Rushville can justly be proud.

But how is that sort of thing to be labeled? Is not that public spiritedness? Is not that the ingredient, when carefully mixed, which will make a small laggardly town into an enterprising city? Is not that the thing which will make Rushville a greater and better city? Is not that the thing which, when applied in the right direction, will bring Rushville to that for which it has been striving for these many years?

Would not that same spirit, applied in another direction, bring about industrial improvement? Would not that same spirit bring to Rushville more people and more factories? It certainly would. Examples are to be found on every hand which prove the statement. Cities have had truly remarkable industrial growth, largely due to the fact that the public spirit was there, the willingness to do something for mankind, where there is no financial gain.

It has been said of Rushville that there is not the least semblance of a public spirit or spirits here. Can that be true? It has been proven untrue, and there is truly some hope for the worst of us. If that same public spirit was applied in another direction, there would be no reason for Rushville remaining in the background of industrial improvement. That same spirit applied in the right way will bring results.

It falls to the lot of the Rushville Retail Merchants' Association to make the advance steps in that direction. They are the organized body which represents the industrial interests of Rushville. They are the ones who are to be principally benefited by industrial improvement. They are the ones who are to take the initiation in such a movement. There are, of course, other people to be benefited. They will jump on the band wagon when such a movement is given the proper impetus. Perhaps that spirit and feeling is here now. Perhaps now is the time to act.

It has been charged, and perhaps justly so, that Rushville people are critical. There may be some foundation for that and what of it? There should be critics rather than a lack of them. Criticism will bring about more than if it did not exist. When once something is accomplished, well directed criticism will cause it to be done better than had there been no critics at all.

SAYS DISEASE IS NOT BAD

Hay Fever Patients Claim That Lack of Weed is Cause.

Local snifflers say that the hay fever is not as bad this year as it has been in previous years. They claim that it is due to the fact that there is not much rag weed. The luxuriant growth of plantain is said to have choked out the growth of the rag weed. Other hay fever patients have been found who say that the growth of the rag weed has little to do with the malady.

BUMPER CROP IS NOW IN MAKING

Best Yield of Corn in Recent Years is Expected to Come This Fall.

LOCAL CONDITIONS ARE GOOD

If present favorable weather conditions obtain, Rush county farmers will harvest a bumper corn crop. A man who made a tour through the country this week was attracted by what seemed to him to be an excellent prospect for a corn crop. A conversation with several farmers substantiated his belief that corn was doing exceptionally well. The farmers state that the yield this season will be one of the best in years.

Everyone agrees that this year's crop will be the best in years and is now in better condition than most corn in other sections. Several local men, who have been to New Mexico recently say that none of the corn fields look as luxuriant as the local ones. Every indication points to a bumper crop.

KILLS HIS BEST FRIEND IN FIGHT

WAS DEFENDING HIMSELF

Louis Oris, storekeeper at the Italian camp doing construction work on the Pennsylvania railroad shot and killed Itolo Fontana, his best friend, while attempting to defend himself against an attack by Giulio Pellegrini, who slashed him across the arm with a knife, says a Cambridge City dispatch.

The Italian camp had been on a holiday today and much drinking was indulged in. An Italian named Tonie started the trouble by hitting one of his section hands over the head with a beer bottle. Tonie was arrested and fined. Oris, who, in addition to his duties as storekeeper, acts as interpreter for the Italians, got into a dispute over the fight with Pellegrini, who attacked him with a knife. Oris drew a revolver and just as he attempted to fire upon Pellegrini, Fontana entered the room and in an effort to save Pellegrini, struck the revolver. The bullet hit Fontana in the forehead, killing him instantly. Oris was taken to Richmond in the evening and placed in jail.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS ARE ACCUSED

A. B. VanOrmer at Institute, Explains the Accusation of Prof. James Mark Baldwin.

THE PROGRAM IS EXCELLENT

"Bachelor Should Read 'Romeo and Juliet' Weekly—Dancing Kill-Time Rather Than Pastime."

"It is a perfectly certain fact that two out of every three children are irretrievably damaged and hindered in their mental and moral development in school," was the basis of Dr. A. B. VanOrmer's lecture this morning on the subject, "An Awful Accusation Against the Schools." The statement is made in one of Prof. James Mark Baldwin's works. Prof. Baldwin has served as a professor in the University of Toronto and Princeton, and is now devoting his entire time to writing psychological, metaphysical and ethical treatises.

The statement," says VanOrmer, "is of great and tremendous service to the teaching profession and to the public schools, in the mere fact that it causes thought among the teachers. Professor Baldwin does not maintain that the same would not be true if the children stayed at home, for he is a firm believer in the present system of education and endorses it to the extent that he believes in it, but what he means is simply that the institution has not near enough approached the standard of perfection."

"Where do the schools lack then?" "In brief, concise statements, full of material philosophy, the thought that too much attention was given to recitation rather than teaching and emphasizing of principles, that the scope of the work covered daily took ten hours of attention if thoroughly prepared, and that that amount of time was too burdensome on children at the age of six to fourteen, was laid bare. The fact was brought out that the eyesight of pupils and the hearing of the students was neglected, and since hearing and seeing are the main indirect sources of all education, that these two factors should be given the greatest possible attention. The teeth and food are also essentials, which are not given proper attention. For these reasons Prof. Baldwin made his statement.

Among some things said by Mr. VanOrmer were, that a bachelor should read "Romeo and Juliet" weekly; that the Bible is the greatest text book of psychology in existence and that Shakespeare's work is next; you can not think out a serious fact if you are in love—if you do no believe it try it; that dancing is a kill-time rather than a pastime.

Mrs. Rosa Mikels gave an exceedingly interesting and practical talk this morning on "The Sand Table as an Aid to Composition." Dr. VanOrmer gave a talk this afternoon, which for value as far as theory is concerned, was a masterpiece. He dealt with a question that is one of the most momentous that faces an instructor in the public schools. His subject was "The Balancing of Educational Factors."

Tomorrow Mrs. Mikels will speak on "Correlating Work" and "Studies in English Classics." Prof. VanOrmer will talk in the morning on "Industrial Education and Its Claim on the School" and in the afternoon he will give his lecture "Mrs. Tree: The Fine Art of Making Children Bad." Tomorrow afternoon's program will prove of intense interest to any person who is interested in education.

Wilkesbarre Councilmen Take the Mayor to Task.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 16.—Councilmen of this city are much excited by the charges reported to have been made against them by Mayor Lewis P. Kniffen, in a speech at Lake Lodge. The mayor is alleged to have said that out of the thirty-two councilmen of this city few are worthy men, and to have expressed the following opinions of the others:

"The rest of the bunch are unprincipled grafters and crooks. They betray the people who elected them. Some are guilty of misdemeanors which if known would send them on an enforced vacation to prison.

"They are a set of miscellaneous curios. They are not selected for their fitness, but for their unfitness.

"They are the crafty crooks who pull the wool over the people's eyes to conceal their unworthy ends. They go into council, not to save the city, but to help themselves.

"I believe that there are some councilmen who have paid off mortgages on their homes, sport automobiles and drink imported wines. Beer now is not good enough for them.

"Prosperity, good government and municipal advancement are checked by these petty city fathers. The people are asleep at the switch."

Councilmen called on the mayor, expressed their anger and said they would demand an investigation by the city council and ascertain whether or not he said what is credited to him.

BLOODED COWS WILL COMPETE

Exposition Gives Prizes for Milk Production.

MODEL DAIRY ON GROUNDS

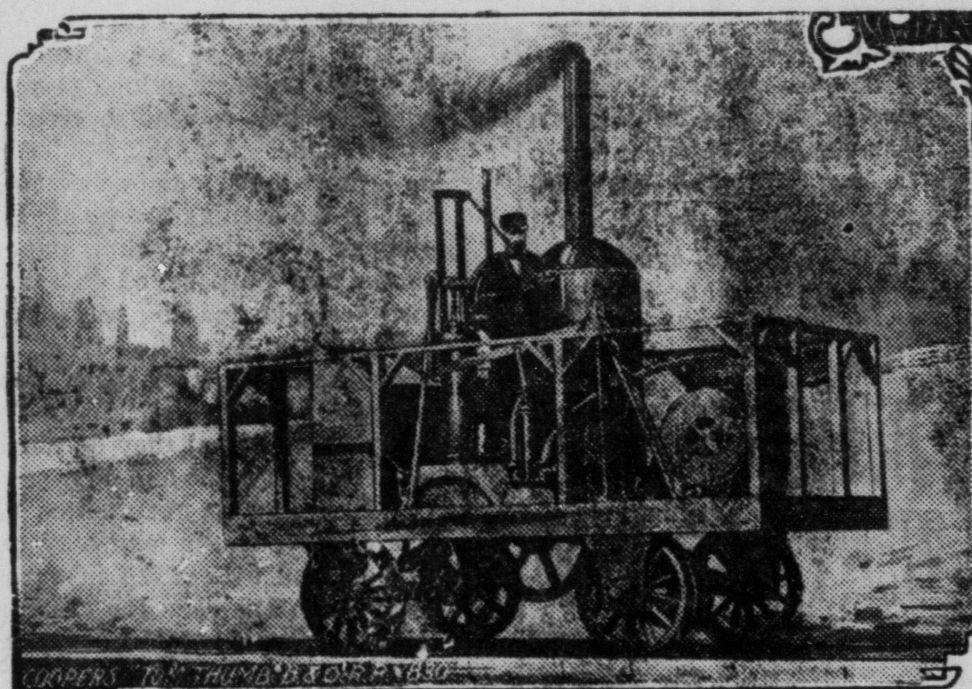

Milking by Electricity, Pasteurizing, Sterilizing and Separating Processes to Be Shown in Full Detail at Ohio Valley Exposition. Six Different Bovine Breeds Will Furnish Records of Great Value to Farmers and Dairymen.

Cincinnati, O. —(Special.)— Active milk-producing competition between cows of six of the best and most favorably known breeds of cattle in the world will be an interesting feature of the dairy exhibit of the Ohio Valley Exposition, to be held at Cincinnati from August 29 to September 24.

Some time ago plans were perfected for the installation of a model dairy in which the milking of cows and the various processes of handling milk were to be shown under the latest and most sanitary methods. This plan included milking by electricity, pasteurizing, sterilizing and separating under most approved conditions, and the making of butter, cheese, ice cream, etc., all in full view of visitors to this department.

To this arrangement now has been added a system for making records of the productive qualities of various breeds of cows. It is proposed to place in this model dairy two each of six well-known breeds of cows, Jerseys, Guernseys, Ayrshires, Durhams, Holsteins and Alderneys being included in the list. Only registered cows will go into the exhibit, thus assuring the best possible results for each breed. Careful records will be taken daily of the quantity of milk secured from each cow, together with the amount of cream produced, as well as statistics showing the amount and quality of the various by-products. These records will be posted daily on the stall of each cow, with weekly records for individual cows and for the breeds. In this way the interested public may see exactly what each cow is doing while experts will find in these figures much valuable information. At the close of the Exposition a complete record of the products secured from each breed of cows will be made public, thus affording a table of comparisons that should prove valuable to those directly interested. Naturally, none of the breeds will have any advantage, as every cow will be handled under exactly similar conditions. The "model dairy," which will be built on plans furnished by, and under the supervision of, the State Dairy and Food Commissioner, will be located on a steel island in the center of the canal. It will be built almost entirely of glass, and will be comparatively dustless. Bridges at either end will connect it with the mainland.

FRUIT WILL COME FROM FAR WEST

Cincinnati, O. —(Special.)— Southern fruit growers are welcoming the opportunity of displaying their products for comparison with the fruits of the California horticulturists at the Ohio Valley Exposition, to be held in Cincinnati from August 29 to September 24. For some time the fruit growers of the South have been placing the choicest specimens of their groves and orchards in cold storage, with the result that as fine a collection of Florida fruits as ever was assembled will be ready for display when the Exposition opens. Now comes word from California that the Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles will apply for 1,500 square feet of floor space on which to make an exhibit, which shall consist principally of fruits, attractively arranged, and which are grown in the territory

EX-CONVICTS ISSUE THREATS OF DEATH

An Anonymous Letter Gives New York Police Concern.

New York, Aug. 16.—An anonymous letter carrying information of a plot of four ex-convicts, recently discharged from Sing Sing, to assassinate Judges O'Sullivan, Malone and Rosalsky of the court of general sessions, Judge Fawcett of Brooklyn, Assistant District Attorney Hart, and former Assistant District Attorney Ely, has reached District Attorney Whitman. In view of the recent attack upon Mayor Gaynor, the threat caused quite a lot of excitement about the criminal courts building. Inspector Russell, after a talk with members of the district attorney's staff, sent out men to locate the writer. The task, if the statements made by the man who wrote the letter are true, should not prove to be difficult. The letter writer so describes the crime of which he was convicted that it should be easy to trace him in connection with the discharge or parole records of Sing Sing prison.

How Would a "Full Jewelled" Typewriter Appeal to You?

Every important bearing in an expensive watch is a small gem of a hardness not susceptible to wear. The purpose of the jewels is to insure by reduction of friction and wear, the accuracy which makes a timepiece valuable.

The first successful use of a ball-bearing typebar in a writing-in-sight machine was by the manufacturers of the New Model L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter.

Ball Bearings not only for the typebars, but at all vital wearing points of the New Model

How to Cure Eczema, Pimples, And Dandruff.

We desire to say that when we took the agency for ZEMO, we were convinced that it was a valuable remedy for Eczema, pimples, and dandruff. Yet, we must frankly admit that Zemo has far exceeded our expectations as a treatment for skin diseases. We are pleased to state that we shall continue the agency as ZEMO has given splendid results wherever recommended. Our customers like ZEMO too, because it is a clean vegetable liquid for external use. ZEMO effects its cures by drawing to the surface of the skin and destroying the germ life that causes the disease, leaving the skin clear and healthy. It does not soil the clothing or linen and can be used freely on infants.

With every purchase, we give a booklet on skin disease explaining in simple words how any person can be cured at home of any form of skin or scalp diseases by this clean, scientific remedy. F. E. Wolcott, Druggist.

HE WAS PROUD OF THE CHECK

And It Was Only Part Payment For Services.

GRAFTING ON THE INDIANS

Further Evidence of Interesting Character Brought Out in the Hearing of Charges Precipitated by Senator Gore's Disclosure of Alleged Attempts to Influence With Money the Course of National Legislation.

Sulphur, Okla., Aug. 16.—W. B. Johnson, ex-United States district attorney from Ardmore, dismissed during the Roosevelt administration because he refused to dismiss indictments against J. F. McMurray and others, was a witness before the Burke commission yesterday. He testified that W. A. Ledbetter, an attorney of Oklahoma City, had flashed a $10,000 check in his face which bore the signature of J. F. McMurray; that Mr. Ledbetter was very proud of the check, but remarked that it was only part payment for his services in securing the injunctions against the collection of taxes on Indian lands. Johnson gave it as his opinion that McMurray retained Ledbetter because the latter stood in with the Haskell administration. The witnesses following were with a single exception Indians and squaw men, ranging from the improvident class up to the very wealthy, some of them wearing diamonds and rings costing as high as $1,500.

Their testimony was such that Chairman Burke announced that the commission was agreed that the signers of the McMurray contracts were favorable to them at the time they executed them and are still favorable to them and favorable to McMurray as their agent.

Holmes Willis of Kingston, Chickasaw Indian capitalist and a member of the Atoka and other treaty commissions, testified, as did also William Keirzey and James Yarborough, both squaw men of Keirzey, that the state courts are permitting grafting by professional guardians for Indian children to graft their wards out of much of their lands, particularly inherited lands, reciting instances and court records.

"A grafter is a man who can steal without violating the law," Holmes Willis replied to a request from Congressman Campbell for a definition.

WORLD'S FAIR FIRE

Disaster to Great Belgian Exposition Exaggerated in First Reports.

Brussels, Aug. 16.—The calamity which has befallen the international exhibition by Sunday night's fire is actually so great that at best only a qualified satisfaction is to be derived from the fact that some of the worst reports launched amid the excitement and alarm attending the blaze have been proved exaggerated and inaccurate.

Even yet the details of the destruction are incomplete, but apparently every exhibiting nation with the exception of Germany, whose building was remote from the fire's point of origin, suffered. In some cases the loss was comparatively slight. Great Britain, France and Belgium are the greatest losers.

Apparently all of Bostock's animals perished in the flames with the exception of a solitary elephant and a cage of monkeys, the occupants of which were allowed to escape to the streets, where they were captured later.

INTERNAL REVENUE

What Uncle Sam Profits by Year's Liquor and Tobacco Bill.

Washington, Aug. 16.—Figures announced by the internal revenue service show that in the fiscal year ended July 31 the citizens of the United States drank 126,000,000 gallons of whisky, 59,000,000 barrels of beer and ale, smoked eight billion cigars and seven billion cigarettes.

Uncle Sam profited by these facts to the extent of $289,728,014, the total collected as internal revenue. Playing cards contributed $565,524 in revenue, and oleomargarine produced more than a million dollars.

The present population of Pittsburgh is 533,905, which is an increase since 1900 of 82,393, or 18.2 per cent.

ROY HARROLD, City Editor.

Tuesday, August 16, 1910.

According to the Columbus Republican the Republican party in Bartholomew county is wearing "the smile that won't come off," since last Friday's conference with State Chairmen Lee.

Train your boy right from youth up, using firm discipline, and he will grow up and become a useful citizen. But if you want to give your boy from six to ten years old a good start for the penitentiary, just allow him the privilege of running on the streets until late bedtime. It is there he learns his first crime. It is there he gets his first lesson in vulgar, obscene language, and his start for prison is made.

There is no better land anywhere than that in Indiana, and particularly in Rush county, not withstanding the alluring offers of cheap land elsewhere. After all Indiana—located in the great corn belt—one of the most staple States in the union. Many modern farmers are raising 50 to 60 bushels of wheat to the acre and 80 to 100 bushels of corn of course the average is far below this but this only shows what advance farming may accomplish. Why should any farmer want to take chances in a new country where many untold disadvantages exist.

The trustees of Howard county at their meeting Monday passed resolutions condemning the practice of the field examiners in advertising clerical errors as evidence of thefts. They were opposed to that feature of the accounting law which "parades as a thief" any trustee who is short through a clerical error an amount so inconsequential as to offer no temptation toward dishonesty. The trustees also objected to the law which requires an advertisement for bids for any and every little article needed. No doubt the intention of the new accounting law was good in reducing graft and extravagance in township expenditure, but it does not seem to work well all-around, and will need attention at the hands of the next legislature.

One of the really great problems of the day, says the New Castle Courier, is found in the question of checking the trend from the farm to the city and how to reverse the conditions with profit, comfort and real enjoyment of life for those interested. Coming back to the farm is a movement worthy of encouragement when it carries with it experience previously gained, but the assumption that city bred men or women can go out to an available patch of ground and at once successfully take up the work of feeding the nation, is erroneous and discouraging to others. The people to encourage in the taking up of farm work under the new and improved conditions are such as have abandoned the country for the city, likewise young men and young women with the ambition to be independent and the patience to earn the requirements of the calling.

Shelby County's Proud Stand.

(Shelbyville Republican.)
Rush and Shelby county Democrats are still warring over the selection of a candidate for the nomination for prosecuting attorney—that is Rush county is showing her teeth and growling—but Shelby has at last settled down to a grim determination to nominate a candidate and demand support from her sister county on the ground that this county is entitled to two terms. That Shelby county does the electing and she is entitled, therefore, to renominate Mr. Cheney and demand support for him from Rush county.

That state of affairs has intensified the feeling between the two Shelby county candidates, Messrs. Cheney and Brown, and the latter is giving the present incumbent a hard hand struggle. It is the opinion of shrewd workers among the Democrats that Mr. Brown is making himself felt in certain quarters and that he will be troublesome until tomorrow evening. He can not get a majority over Mr. Cheney, however, try as he may, and the latter will appoint the delegates to the judicial convention from among his friends in this county who can not be switched away from him. It is safe to conclude, therefore, that Shelbyville will go into the fight with both places in the palm of her hand and Rush may squirm and wiggle until she is black in the face for all the real good she may accomplish.

Republicans can not profit by the situation except as Shelby's act in hogging both nominations shall influence the independent votes in Rush. A very great per cent of the people in Rush county, regardless of political affiliations, know and esteem Judge Sparks highly. He is so much of a man in all things that the people cling to him as friend and brother, and they feel that his continuance in office is an honor personal to them.

Shelby county's attitude is evinced by its stubborn refusal to listen to Rush county's plea for the second place on the ticket, is not calculated to minimize the feeling that exists in all parts of Rush county, and a sentiment to give Shelby opportunity to furnish the votes in a sufficient number to elect both of her candidates, finds a responsive chord in the hearts of many a proud Rush county patriot.

INDIANA POLITICS

(Special Correspondence.)

Indianapolis, August 16.—William Jennings Bryan, shrewdly censored by Thomas Taggart and the Parker crowd, just as he was censored and restricted in 1904, will make a Kern speech in Indiana this year. Driven by the humorous comments of Republican editors, and by pressure from Bryan Democrats in the rural sections, the Taggart bosses were forced to ask Mr. Bryan to orate in the Indiana campaign. Somewhat to their surprise Mr. Bryan agreed to come and speak. Greatly to their gratification, he announced that he would steer clear of the Indiana Democratic platform, which he repudiates, and that he would speak on national issues strictly. Now the only thing the Taggart Democrats fear is the fact that Mr. Bryan may speak as he spoke in Texas, and tear to pieces the tariff record made by Joe Bailey and Ben Shively in the United States senate at the special session when the Payne bill was passed. The best they can hope for from Mr. Bryan is that he will mercifully not refer again to the duplicity and perfidy, as Cleveland would say, of those high protection Democrats who were at the command of protection leaders whenever they were needed to carry over a schedule. Senator Shively will shiver in his official shoes until the Bryan speech is over. For even in the field of national issues Mr. Bryan has power and reason to flay Shively alive.

It will be remembered that in Texas Mr. Bryan declared in plain words that Joe Bailey and his followers in Washington had put the Democratic party foolishly on the defensive on the tariff issue. Well, if Joe Bailey did that thing, Ben Shively helped to do it. For Shively was found not voting 62 times, voting against protection 63 times, and for protection 4 or 5 times. His dodging and his protection votes together overbalanced his Democratic votes considerably. His batting average was away below what it should have been, in Mr. Bryan's mind. It will be the merest charity on Mr. Bryan's part to leave all this out of his tariff speech, that is, if he mentions the tariff.

A Democratic writer for state papers announces with apparent authority, that after a conference lasting several hours, Governor Marshall, John W. Kern and John E. Lamb were agreed that they would make speeches this campaign in favor of an immediate revision of the tariff to a revenue-only basis. On a basis of his former record on the subject, Mr. Bryan, if he talks tariff, will stand with Marshall, Kern and Lamb for the old doctrines. On the other hand, Senator Shively and Stokes Jackson and Sam Ralston had a confabulation. And it was announced by writers for the Democratic press, none other than the famous Taggart publicity bureau, that the issues of the campaign in Indiana from the Democratic side would be the high cost of living and a fight against the tariff commission idea and against the postal savings bank measure. Shively and his side-partners do not wish to argue the tariff commission. They do not wish to beg an inquiry into Shively's record on the tariff. They are evasive.

However, after all, Mr. Bryan has not yet spoken in Indiana. He has been invited to speak by a timorous and uncertain bunch of bosses who hate him, and whom he despises with much robust vigor. He has accepted the invitation. It is said he will be in Indiana "sometime in October." Mr. Bryan was here the other day, and the Taggart committeemen could not avoid asking him to speak. If Mr. Bryan's chautauqua dates later interfere with arrangements for the Indiana address, well, he will have escaped self-stultification, and the Indiana Democratic bosses will breathe easy once more. In the meantime, Republicans will continue to ask about Mr. Bryan's dates, and to show a lively interest in further steps the Taggart comedians may make.

Mr. Bryan spoke very kindly of Senator Beveridge while in Indianapolis. He refused to comment on Col. Roosevelt's probable political course. Of John W. Kern he said that Mr. Kern "stands for all the good things Senator Beveridge stands for, and for some things Senator Beveridge does not stand for." This is true, especially, as to the last statement. We have all seen that Mr. Kern "stands for" a lot of things Senator Beveridge would not "stand for" in a thousand years. These things might be enumerated. No doubt they will occur to the voter without being listed. Kern "stands for" fraud, trickery, bribery and the double-cross in caucus. Mr. Kern "stands for" Taggart bossism. Mr. Kern "stands for" the gag and "stands for" the loss of his own self-respect. Mr. Kern not only "stands for" Shively, but eulogizes the man who benefited most from the shameful theft that marked Kern's last betrayal. Kern "stands for" the double-cross given to the Bryan and Kern ticket in 1903. Even Mr. Bryan refuses to "stand for" that. Mr. Kern stands for tariff revision as Mr. Bryan says, and as Mr. Bryan again says, Senator Beveridge stands for the protective principle. Yes, indeed, Mr. Kern "stands for" many things Senator Beveridge would not submit to.

GOV. HARMON MAY SAIL IN AIRSHIP

Probable That he Will Make Flight With His Cousin at Dayton Fall Festival.

IS PRESIDENT OF AERO CLUB

Dayton, O., August 16. (Special)—Clifford B. Harmon of New York, the wealthy amateur aeronaut and aviator and president of the Aero Club of America, the international body, is not going to see his cousin Governor Harmon left behind when it comes to a matter of aerial fights, Mr. Harmon, the New Yorker, is to be in Dayton during the Fall Festival as the guest of the aviation committee. He is bringing his balloon "New York" with him. It is the largest in the world and holds all records for altitude, length of flight and endurance. He has agreed to make several ascents. A few days ago he heard that Theodore Roosevelt had been invited by Director General F. M. Barnes to make aeroplane flights at the Wright Brothers' testing grounds during the Fall Festival. As Governor Harmon is also to be a guest of the city of Dayton exposition week, and as the governor is a second cousin to the rich aeronaut, the New York Harmon sent a warm letter of invitation to Columbus asking the governor to accompany him in a flight in the great "New York." This is an invitation greatly sought after and it may be that the governor will accept.

ZEMO draws the germs to the surface and destroys them, leaving the skin clear and healthy. Can be used freely on infants. Mr. F. E. CAME TO HEAR BRYAN.

(Shelbyville Democrat.)
Senator Will Yarling and John Tindall, who went to Rushville Friday to hear W. J. Bryan deliver his lecture, were given the glad hand by that notable personage. The gentlemen spent a delightful hour in conversation with Mr. Bryan and when the camera man came along they were desired by him to stand up with Mr. Bryan to be "shot." According to the local men Mr. Bryan has lost nothing of his old time vigor and strength of personality.

OHIO'S CAPITAL IS UNDER GUARD

Governor Harmon Again Orders Out State Troops.

HE DIDN'T CONSULT THE MAYOR

Failure of City Authorities to Suppress Rioting at Columbus Resulted in a Second Call for Troops and the Military Authorities Are Now Prepared to Take Charge of Things in Long Disturbed City.

Columbus, O., Aug. 16.—Governor Harmon has personally assumed charge of the car strike situation in Columbus. Without consulting Mayor Marshall or the state's adjutant general, he ordered a force of 1,000 state troops into the capitol yard and they are encamped there, including the First regiment of Cincinnati, part of the Third regiment of Dayton and Troop B and Battery C of Columbus. The governor is in charge of the troops and his adjutant general gives the orders.

Bankers and business men raised $12,500 to pay for special deputy sheriffs, but the authorities have been practically unable to enlist deputies or special police officers. Governor Harmon issued a proclamation calling on all citizens to rally to the standard of law and order and assist the troops and local police force in putting down riot. When told that the governor had ordered troops, Mayor Marshall was greatly taken aback. He is reported to have consigned the governor, Adjutant General Weybrecht and his critics in general to the nether regions. The governor's advisers were much wrought up and demanded an explanation of the mayor. The latter issued a statement denying that he made the remarks attributed to him.

C. S. Coach of the Coach Detective agency, has arrived to take charge of the strike breakers in the absence of John F. Brady, the leader, who fled after shooting two women and a child. The military officers are prepared to assume charge of things, and it looks as if the governor has about made up his mind to lift the management of the situation entirely out of the mayor's hands. Predictions are freely made that in the event of serious trouble the governor will not hesitate to remove the mayor from office.

Declines to Discuss It.

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 16.—When going to his home in this city late at night, Millard Timberlake was attacked by an unidentified person and stabbed in the side with a hatpin, and is now in a critical condition. It is believed the wound was inflicted by a woman. Timberlake refuses to discuss the assault.

THE OPIUM HABIT.

Its Effects as Described by Bill Nye in His Memoirs.

I have always had a horror of opiates of all kinds. They are so seductive and so still in their operations. They steal through the blood like a wolf on the trail and they seize on the heart with their white fangs till it is still forever.

Up the Laramie there is a cluster of ranches at the base of the Medicine Bow, near the north end of Sheep mountain. Well, a young man whom we will call Curtis lived at one of these ranches years ago, and, though a quiet, mind-your-own-business fellow who had absolutely no enemies among his companions, he had the misfortune to incur the wrath of a tramp sheepherder, who waylaid Curtis one afternoon and shot him dead as he sat in his buggy. Curtis wasn't armed.

A rancher came into town and telegraphed to Curtis' father, and then half a dozen citizens went out to help capture the herder, who had fled to the foothills.

They didn't get back till toward dark, but they brought the herder with them. I saw him in the gray of the morning, lying in a coarse gray blanket on the floor of the engine house. He was dead.

I asked, as a reporter, how he came to his death and they told me, "opium." The murderer had taken poison when he found that escape was impossible.

I was present at the inquest so that I could report the case. There was very little testimony, but all the evidence seemed to point to the fact that life was extinct, and a verdict of death by his own hand was rendered.

It was the first opium work I had ever seen, and it aroused my curiosity. Death by opium, it seems, leaves a dark ring around the neck. I did not know this before. People who die by opium also tie their hands together before they die. This is one of the eccentricities of opium poisoning that I have never seen laid down in the books. I brought it up to medical science. Whenever I run up against a new scientific discovery I just hand it right over to the public without cost.

Ever since the above incident I have been very apprehensive about people who seem to be likely to form the opium habit. It is one of the most deadly narcotics, especially in a new country.

Caught a Tartar.

Senator Theodore E. Burton of Ohio, who is a bachelor and has never been ensnared by the wiles of women, tells a story of a young lady and a judge of his acquaintance. The former was a witness in the latter's court. The prosecuting attorney had repeatedly put to her questions which she persistently evaded under the plea that she did not comprehend his meaning, whereupon his honor undertook to bring out the proper responses. Leaning over, he said in a kindly and fatherly manner:

"Young woman, why is it that you insist in refusing to understand the questions of counsel? You are a person of charm, grace, beauty and more than average intelligence and"—

"Thank you, your honor," interrupted the young woman, "if it were not for the fact, judge, that I am under oath I would return the compliment."

—National Monthly.

The "Sting" of Death.

The sting of death physically is nothing; a man who has lost consciousness in the water, a man who has been under an anesthetic, a man stunned in an accident—these have been in effect dead, and yet they know nothing of death. In speaking of it the most glaring contradictions pass quite naturally for axioms. It is the "gentle hand," but it is also the "grisly terror." It is "beautiful" and "wonderful," but it is also "terrible"—London Spectator.

A Cargo Hard to Handle.

Asphalt is said to be the most difficult cargo for a vessel to unload. The asphalt is taken out of the asphalt lakes in Trinidad in a semifluid state and by the time the vessel reaches a northern port has hardened, so that to unload it it is necessary for the men to go into the hold and dig it out with pick and shovel. This takes time, and a vessel carrying such cargo always has to arrange for a considerable stay in port.

Hippocratic Face.

The hippocratic face is a condition of the human face produced by death. long illness, excessive hunger and the like. The nose is pinched, the temples hollow, the eyes sunken, the ears cold and retracted, the skin of the forehead dry, the complexion livid and the lips relaxed with cold. This appearance is so named from having been accurately described by Hippocrates, the father of medicine.—New York American.

One Thing Unbroken.

Standing over the shattered remains of their last Dresden china statuette, the exasperated mistress said to the awkward servant:

"Is there anything you haven't broken since you have been with me?"

"Yes, mum," replied the servant. "I have yet to break me record for destructiveness."—Baltimore American.

A Cautious Suggestion.

Ethel—My poor head aches frightfully. Claire—Why don't you take your hair off and rest it my dear?—Lippincott's.

"The poorest way to face life is to face it with a sneer."—Theodore Roosevelt.

MINERS READY FOR BIG FIGHT

Both Factions Prepared For Coming Struggle.

JOHN MITCHELL TAKES A HAND

Former President of the United Mine Workers Surprises Convention by Unexpectedly Entering and Taking a Seat With Delegates From His Old Local at Spring Valley—President Lewis Guards Against a Stampede.

Indianapolis, Aug. 16.—A sensation was created in the convention of the United Mine Workers when John Mitchell, whose presence in the city was not suspected, entered the hall and walked down the aisle. The moment he was recognized the delegates rose to their feet and greeted him with hearty applause. President Lewis stared at the new comer open-eyed.

He was evidently nonplussed while the Illinois delegates crowded around the former chieftain of the miners and seemed to look upon his coming as auguring success for their cause. Mitchell declined a seat on the stage, saying that he came as a delegate from his old local at Spring Valley, Ill., and would seat himself with the delegates of that state, whereat there was more cheering from the Illinois delegates. In a brief speech Mitchell said that he had come here without any preconceived ideas respecting the difficulties before the convention and that he intended to be guided in what he does by his convictions of duty.

Friends of Lewis do not know what to make of Mitchell's coming. He had not been reported as a delegate, and it was plainly the intent of those who sent him to make his appearance a surprise. The conservative members hope that his influence will be exerted for peace, but the Lewis faction is plainly apprehensive. In a discussion one of the delegates from Kansas declared that the miners would have a new president when the convention adjourns, but Lewis replied: "No, you won't have a new president, and I'll tell you why. Tom Lewis was not elected president by a convention, but by the membership at large."

The opposing factions in the convention are apparently ready for the big fight which is sure to come on within the next few days. President Thomas L. Lewis, the head of the element that supports the international administration, expressed himself as being well satisfied with the situation and said there would be no change in his policy.

The convention will be asked to indorse the Illinois strike. The Illinois delegates will try to put this proposition over, and Lewis and his friends will seek to prevent such indorsement. Lewis said that no attempt to stampede the convention in that direction would be permitted. He said that the reports of committees would be received before any other action was taken.

"Three motions have been made already to indorse the Illinois strike, but I have refused to recognize any of them," he said.

"I shall continue to refuse until the convention is ready to receive such a motion."

If the applause that breaks loose in the convention from time to time can be taken as any indication of the strength of the Lewis and anti-Lewis factions, there is mighty little difference between them.

GIRL MISSING

Lelah Eason Mysteriously Disappeared at Bedford.

Bedford, Ind., Aug. 16.—The mysterious disappearance of Miss Lelah Eason, the eighteen-year-old daughter of Robert Eason, a farmer living five miles southwest of here, in Spice Valley township, is causing much uneasiness to her family and friends. The girl has been missing more than a week, leaving her home to call on a dressmaker in this city. The father came to Bedford and learned that she had not called on the dressmaker. For some time the girl had been corresponding with an unknown person at Kansas, Ill. The father will ask the authorities of that place to assist him in his efforts to find the girl.

Woman Killed in Runaway. Anderson, Ind., Aug. 16.—Mrs. Frances Hinton, aged forty-six, a widow, of this city, was killed; Mrs. Harry Best, of Indianapolis, suffered a broken leg, and Charles Stanley, a farmer, of this city, was slightly hurt when a horse Stanley was driving to a light wagon ran away. They were on their way to an undertaking establishment to select a coffin for the four-months-old daughter of Mrs. Best, who was visiting relatives in this city when the child died.

Two Killed in Wreck. Jasonville, Ind., Aug. 16.—In a head-on collision between a local freight train and a coal train, Ben Williams and William Cameron were killed on the Southern Indiana railroad. They were riding on the engine that was pulling the load of coal cars and were scalded to death.

Postmaster General Hitchcock has crushed to earth the report that he is engaged to be married to a rich widow.

TIME OF FAMILY REUNIONS HERE

August is Most Accepted Time When
They Gather to Hear of Their Ancestors.

FEW WAIT UNTIL NEXT MONTH

Mauzy's, Newhouses and Blacklidges Will Gather Tomorrow— Nor-rises Come Next Week.

The month of August, the time for family reunions and county fairs is here. It seems to be the most accepted time for such events and they generally happen at this season of the year. A number of local people will journey to other parts during this month to attend the reunions of the family to which they trace their lineage and others will join in similar events within the confines of this county. Most of them will be held at the Rush county fair grounds, while others will take place at the homes of some member of the family.

Tomorrow, the first of the series will take place at the fair grounds. The descendants of the Blackledge and Newhouse families will gather there to recite the incidents in the lives of their ancestors and live the life of their forefathers over again. The members of the Mauzy family will also convene to talk over days past. It is merely a coincidence that the two reunions were set on the same date as the officers of one organization did not know of the intentions of the others until all arrangements had been made.

The Newhouse and Blackledge families are very closely related and for that reason they always hold a joint reunion. They expect at least one hundred descendants of the two families to gather tomorrow for the annual event. They always have many visitors from all over the State and a few from out of the boundaries of Indiana. A large number of their members reside in Madison county, Indiana, and a big delegation always comes from there. It is the fifteenth annual event for the two families.

The Mauzy's will also gather at the fair grounds tomorrow. Their program for the day consists mainly of a big basket dinner which is the big feature. It has been their custom in previous years to read the history of the family, which tells of the settlement of the first ancestors in this country. They expect a number of visitors from all over the State.

The second annual Norris reunion will be held at the fair grounds on Thursday, August 25. Last year was their first attempt and they were so well pleased with the results that they decided to make it a yearly affair. Their feature event of the day, will, of course, be a monster basket dinner, but they have deviated from the regular program of family reunions. They have arranged an attractive program which consists of talks and music, both instrumental and vocal.

The annual Hilligoss reunion will be held at the fair grounds the first Sunday in September. They expect a number of visitors from out of the city and county.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Marriage licenses were granted to William Harvey Bettecher and Miss Ida May Tilley; William Brown and Annette Tilley today by County Clerk Verne Norris. The four young people are going to take part in a double wedding ceremony tonight at the Tilley home near New Salem.

A GOOD AVERAGE.

Frank Rardin has finished threshing his company. He threshed 14,000 bushels of wheat in thirteen days. The entire yield of the company was a little over 20 bushels per acre, though some of it did not grade very high.

EXCAVATION COMMENCED.

The official board of the Christian church at Gwynneville which recently let the contract for a new church building there, expect to dedicate the new church early in November. The work on the excavation has commenced. The edifice will cost about $7,000.

BY THE WAYSIDE

A newspaper must be the least difficult business to run of any business in the world, says an exchange. This statement is made from the personal observations and is based on the great number who are willing to run it for the editor. If a newspaper editor should go into another business house and offer gratuitously the large chunks of advice relative to the manner in which the friend's business should be conducted, like that which he is compelled to listen to many times a week, he would make his exit in a manner not at all in keeping with his usual dignified and stately manner and with the leather covered extremities of the aforesaid friend in close proximity to his coat tails. But it is different with the editor when this good friend of his ventures to enlighten him on just the policy his paper should pursue, he quietly and courteously listens to the outpouring that would make him bankrupt in thirty days and with not an inward sign of mirth that struggles with his better judgment says "I shall consider it."

AMUSEMENTS

The Vaudelet theater management will show a rare program tonight in the film, "The Death of Minnehaha." It is an Imp film and a sequel to "Hiawatha," the poem by Longfellow. The passing away of the beloved Minnehaha comprises the plot for the beautiful story which is told by the picture. The scene is the woods in the desolate winter when game is scarce and the ground is covered with snow. The photography is said to be a feature of the film.

The Star Grand Air Dome offers a feature picture tonight entitled "Lost in the Soudan." It is one of the most thrilling and inspiring stories ever told in a thousand-foot picture film. Earl Robertson will sing, "What's the Use of Trying to Forget the One You Love?"

"A Salutary Lesson," a Biograph film, is the title of the picture to be shown at the Palace theater tonight. The subject tells a story in which the lack of attention shown to a child and the home resulted fatally. The scene is laid on the seashore where the mother spends her time reading cheap novels and the father with a flirtatious young woman. The child, pining for a walk on the beach, wanders away, falls asleep on a rock and is finally marooned by the rising tide. Her absence causes great consternation. The climax of the interesting plot is thrilling. A new illustrated song will be sung.
